The CHAIRMAN said he considered that they should make a retail price of six cents a quart, and also that a Committee be appointed to see that no names should be inserted in the public papers but those who really sold pure milk, and did not get off ten gallons of swill milk with two or three quarts of pure milk.

Also that there be a meeting of the body once in a month, to regulate the business, and expose or expel from the So ciety any who broke the regulations, and have their names withdrawn from the published list. The meeting then adjourned.

Mr. Graisan demanded to be placed in possession of the stilled the penalties for the City of New-York, this Std March, 1853.

Mr. Graisan demanded to be placed in possession of the stilled the posteric Attorney. Mr. Graisan then called upon the District Attorney for them. The D. A. axid he had a right to the cony of attachment, but not to the uther papers, which could only be brought to this Court on certain and the proceedings before the Recorder are founded would only have the effect to subvert the came of justice, as witnesses would probably keep ont of the way. He contended that the Proceedings before the subprema expresses the subject of the City of this Court is whether the subprema expresses the subject of the State, and some of them have remained away to the present ti which will aland or fall. If a witness can chief himself a plea of a want of jurisdiction, there is an end to go order, and the wheels of society will not only be cloge but locked and remain perfectly still; and offenders a only of a small but of a large character a unpurished. My made other remarks and had not concluded when the Court adjourned to this forecoon.

The time for receiving proposals for $500,000 of bonds of the State of North Carolina will expire tomorrow, Thursday. Bids will be received until 10 o'clock A. M., at the Bank of the Republic. These ols draw interest at the rate of 6 P cont. P samum, payable semi-asomally in this City, and the principal is deemable on the 1st of January, 1883. The amount realized from the sale is to be applied toward the construction of the North Carolina Railroad. The State of Virginia hus chartered a Railroad from Paddytows, on the Baltimore and Ohio Road, to Straeburg, on the Manasses Gap Road. This Road will connect with the Gray's Creek Road, giving the coal of the Westernport District an oatlet to tide water at Alexandria, with about fifty miles loss Railroad transportation than by the Baltimore and Ohio Road. This new Road is looked upon as of the as affording a cheap transportation for the valuable coal which underlies it. Transportation is so important an element in the cost of marketing coal that a small saving per tun in the aggregate produces great results. The capital stock of the Westernport and Alexandria Railroad Co. is $3,000,000, and they are authorized to borrow money to the extent of one half this amount. The Road will, in fact, be an extension of the Manager Gap Road to the Cumberland Coal region at and pear Westernport. The parties interested in this project are also, to a considerable extent, interested in the Parker Vein Coal Co. A corps of engineers will be on the ground on Monday next.

C. V. B. Ostrander, Esq., has been elected President of the Merchants' Insurance Company, of this City, in place of Aaron Clark, Esq., resigned. At auction this morning A. J. Bleecker sold twenty shares of the Morrisiana Bank at one dollar the The receipts of the Harlem Railroad for February show an increase of 50 P cent. on the same month last year. The Poughkeepsie Telegraph states that the double track of the Hudson River Railway will be laid entirely through its whole length by the first of August next.

One of the most promising of the Western roads appears to be a short road of 22 miles, called the Greenville and Miami Railroad, running from Greenville, Ohio, to the Indiana State Line at Union, where it connects with the Bellefontaine and Indianapalis Road. At its eastern terminus at Greenville it connects with the Dayton road and thence to Cincinnati, thus forming an important tink in the line of roads from Terre Haute, Lafayette, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, and to the East. The distance from Terre Haute to Cincinnati is done by daylight. Since the opening of the road, with an incomplete connection with the Indianapolis Road, the business of the Company has grown so large that the equipage was quite insufficient, and the Directors have been actively engaged in adding to it as rapidly as possible. The freight equipage was not sufficient to perform one-half the required service. The cost of the road, including expenditures for new machinery, was $632,000, of which about $375,000 is in bonds. The estimate of the earnings of the road at the time the application for the loan for the purchase of machinery was made was $400 per day, but since the new equipage was put on they have run up to about $525 per day, and promise still to increase. At $400 per day, the following information relative to the late failures in that city:

The Baltimore Price Current furnishes the following information relative to the late failures in

Messrs. Cook & Bro., provision dealers, Commerce at, failed some three weeks since. A few days subsequently, Messrs. G. Cassard & Son, and Lewis and Geo. Cassard also failed. These parties were all connected by family ties, and did business jointly, so that when one failed, their affairs, we are informed, were so interwoven that the rest were obliged also to suspend. The habilities of all the parties do not exceed $300,000, and they are already andeavoring to make the most satisfactory arrangements with their creditors, which the circumstances will permit. We feed at liberty to add that the several members of the houses have enjoyed and still possess the confidence of business most. The elder of the Messrs. Cassard has been engaged many years in the trade, and achieved a high mercantile position and easy fortune by his persevering energy, probity, and prudent enterprise; and though pressed by so scrouts a reverse, his friends, and those of the respective firms, are quite hopeful of a more tavorable result than could be anticipated at the hands of less cautious and prudent men.

The Darenport (Iowa) Gazetta contains an official notice of the organization of the Mississippi Railroad Company, in conformity with the provisions of the "code of lowa." The capital of the Company is $5,000,000, and the intention is to unite at a point on the Missouri, in Pottawatomic County, near Council Bluffs, with the Mississippi at Davenport. The Legisisture of Illinois has passed a bill chartering a company to construct a bridge across the Mississippi at Rock Island, which will connect the Chicago and Rock Island ailroad with the above proposed road.

The Commonwealth is deeply interested in nearly all of those works, The Times says, and has dealt out pecaniare aid to them with a liberal hand. The Dry Goods Trade from first hands has been limited, set with a fair amount of transactions. while the jobbers and distributing houses have been exceedingly active, seiling to Western dealers (who are fush of money) largely for cash. As the jobbers have been selling freely and buying sparingly, the roturn to an easy state of the money market will bring them into the market again as buyers. Heavy Brown Sheetings are active, mostly at he, other kinds are ac cumulating in the bands of the commission houses. There is no change of prices. Bleached Goods are steady but the supply appears to be gaining on the demend. Drills are yetsearce and wasted at full prices. Browns at Sc., Sines at 94 200c, and Bleached at St., Denime are steady with a moderate demand. Osus burge are in better stock, but the demand is not a tive; prices are stonly. Stripes are moderately and ve at regular prices. Their are rather quiet, Printiar. Clothe are inactive - buyers anticipate a lower categoral eriors. Prints are being more freely present on the murket, and prices are loss firm and somewhat ir corn Mr. Gingbams are stondy at 19 @11c., with a good demand. De Laines are dull and prices easy. Clothe have been selling more extensively, mostly to clothises, prices are firm, stock small. Condingrees are in good demand, especially Blacks, and at full prices; plus fancy colors are scarce and wanted; stocks are tight and prices very firm for the better qualities. Satisets are rather quiet but firm. Kentucky Jeans are duil. Tweeds are in good demand at full prices. Figures. and Blankets are very frm and with an opward tend ency. Foreign Goods have not been quite so active at private trade, but the demandhas been good to prevent any accumulation of stock. Yet we cannot fail to note an increasing disposition to place the new importa-into public warehouse; and that the supply is getting abead of the consumption. Auction sales have been more numerous, but prices have given way, and sane but very desirable goods maintain full prices. All Woolen Goods are firm, and the recent importations are at an increasing cost. Blankets, Cloths and Consimeres are all rising. Bombanium are firm. Linens steady, but Dress Goods, Prints and Delivines especially, have declined and continue heavy. Slike of desirable styles only are firm. Ribbons have been sold down to a lower stock, and are rather less heavy. Gloves are in over-stock. Velvets are but moderately active. The Clothiers seem more willing to buy for the Fall trade. Payments continue to be made promptly. A large country demand in the coming two months remains to be filled, which will reduce the stocks of Spring Goods materially. The Western trade will yet be large; the Northern is yet to come and this State trade, which is the largest of any, will be sufficient of itself to give a month's active buying and selling.

against the Dorcheeter and Milton Bank has been decided in the Sepreme Court of Massachusetta. The suit was brought to recover the value of a $50 bill, which the bank alleged to have been stolen, and there upon refused payment.

The Court said that, in the case of stolen promisory notes and bills of exchange, the party seeking payment for them must prove that he paid value for them or come honestly by them; but in the oase of stolen bank bills, the burden of proof is on the other party, and the defendants, to avoid payment, must show that the plaintiffs did not come honestly by them.
